Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission: Point Reyes National Seashore Association (PRNSA) is a nonprofit, public benefit corporation founded on July 17, 1964, to help the National Park Service (NPS) enhance the extraordinary natural, cultural and recreational resources of the Point Reyes National Seashore.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? Yes No

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? Yes No

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a (Code: ) (Expenses $ 1,604,934 including grants of $ ) (Revenue $ 801,778 ) As the primary nonprofit partner of the park, PRNSA works to preserve, restore and maintain wildlife habitat, trails and historic sites in the park. Through year-round environmental education programs, PRNSA helps children and adults to deepen their understanding of nature and inspire the next generation of park stewards. Point Reyes National Seashore is a place for everyone, whether scientist or student, sunbather or hiker, ranger or retiree, we are all drawn to the confluence of natural beauty that it offers. Each of us sees our beloved park through our own eyes and experience, but we all share a love for, and sometimes a fierce protectiveness of, the incomparable Point Reyes peninsula. Looking back over the last year reminds us of our dual role as the park's official nonprofit partner: to provide an entry point for visitors of all backgrounds to gain a deeper understanding of the park and to bolster the team effort required to care for this incredible place.

4b (Code: ) (Expenses $ 2 including grants of $ ) (Revenue $ ) Inspiring the Next Generation of Park Stewards: At the core of PRNSA's work is the belief that we all must share in the stewardship of our public lands. With places to explore, relax, learn and inspire, the park offers a wealth of experiences to the next generation. This relationship with the park is symbiotic; each child who falls in love with Point Reyes National Seashore has the potential to be the next leader or innovator that unites and inspires us all to make choices that protect not only this special park, but the larger natural world. PRNSA was proud to welcome 3,423 youth and family members to the park through a combination of summer camp sessions, overnight environmental education programs for school groups and families, day-long science field trips, public stewardship projects and nature exploration programs. Thanks to the support of our community of individual donors and foundations, 70% participated with a scholarship or through a free program.

4c (Code: ) (Expenses $ 1 including grants of $ ) (Revenue $ ) We work hard to develop partnerships that allow us to bring children of all backgrounds to Point Reyes. We worked with children living in shelters and of incarcerated parents, cultural exchange families from China and the Philippines and families who benefited from a camp conducted in Spanish. By learning from unique perspectives, we are able to improve and adjust our programming to make visiting our national parks and the natural world more welcoming for all. Recreation and Life-long Learning: Our Field Institute classes and special programs offer people of different vocations the chance to come together as park fans to explore the natural world and the arts. Our hands-on classes are led by expert instructors: scientists, naturalists, historians, artists and park rangers, who take participants out of everyday life and into the natural world. We hosted 127 classes and guided programs, giving 1,258 people the opportunity to learn, explore and connect with the park.

4d Other program services (Describe in Schedule O.) (Expenses $ including grants of $ ) (Revenue $ )

Explanation

Thanks to the support of over 1,000 volunteers annually, we increase our ability to protect, preserve and share the wonders of the park. Volunteers help restore habitat, gather data on plant and animal species and deepen the experience of visitors as interpretive docents by sharing the stories of the park's snowy plovers, whales, elephant seals and tule elk.

Conservation through Science: PRNSA partners with the NPS to promote scientific research for the better understanding of the natural and cultural assets of the park. 18 interns work side-by-side with NPS staff on historic preservation, archeology, dune habitat restoration, invasive plant control, wildlife monitoring and community outreach programs. In addition to funding integral staff throughout the park, this year PRNSA supported the continuing restoration of the park's dunes with a $99,000 grant from the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation. The project's mission is to restore coastal dune habitat that is critical for the survival of special status species, including the western snowy plover and Tideström's lupine. Through our Marine Research Fund, PRNSA is proud to support the work of three projects. We funded post-graduate fellows from the University of Virginia and UC Santa Barbara to use aerial imagery and in-water surveys to assist the park in assessing eelgrass regrowth after the Drakes Estero Restoration Project. In addition to informing NPS, the Coastal Commission and the National Marine Fisheries Service on post-restoration progress, the project is establishing new methods for monitoring and assessing eelgrass that can be used in other restoration areas. We also supported the River Otter Ecology Project's research on the diet of this rebounding mid-level predator. Prior to their recent resurgence, the otters had been mostly absent from West Marin for many decades. Their presence marks a more balanced ecosystem, and a more complete understanding of their diet will help predict how these otters fit into the coastal food web of West Marin. With PRNSA's help, the White Shark research group from Monterey Bay University Aquarium, University of Montana and Stanford University continued their research into shark diet, survival and movements off our coast. Insights into the lives of these apex predators help scientists understand marine health and how we can best protect our oceans. With the help of our supporters, PRNSA funded research programs to study and monitor endangered and other key species found in the park, including the western snowy plover, northern spotted owl, Coho salmon, northern elephant seal and Sonoma spineflower. Much of this work was possible thanks to the support of 19 high school and college-level interns who worked side by side with park staff on projects focused on dune restoration, archeology, range management, archeology, invasive plant control and wildlife monitoring. Our Science at the Seashore program brought 1,000 school-age young people to the park for day-long field trips where they practiced hands-on science while learning about ecology, restoration and healthy oceans.
